

To contradict certain talk and to put the consuming public in possession of the truth, we say in plain words that no one in this town can sell as good coffee as Arbuckles' Ariosa for as little money.

Misbranded and make-believe Mocha and Java, or coffee sold loose out of a bag or a bin, is not as good value for the money, nor can it be sold at as narrow profit, nor reach the consumer under as favorable conditions.

When you buy Arbuckles' Ariosa Coffee you get more than 16 net ozs. of straight, wholesome Brazilian coffee from the largest coffee firm in the world, with that firm's direct assurance that they are giving you the best coffee in the world for the money.

A lot of people who abuse the czar would be one if they could. The less money a man makes the more he has if he isn't married.

The boy who plays truant from school never has as much fun as he anticipated.

Every man is almost as pronounced on his antipathy for his own kin as he is to his wife's.

When a man is ruled by a woman people say he is "weak." He is not weak; he is scared.

What a girl likes about being engaged is the way her mother doesn't insist on reading her letters any more.

Here is what most of us do: Pay attention to the wishes of people when their wishes do not conflict with ours.

If you run against the bedpost in the dark and get a black eye, it looks as bad as the black eye received in a fight.

The first thing a woman thinks she has to do when she is getting into society is to go away somewhere for her health.

A man tells you all the smart things he thinks his children say so you will imagine it's because they have his brains.

The man in the thick of the fight, doing his best, thoroughly hates the fat critic who is seated in a comfortable rocking-chair at home.

It is a rare woman who can have a headache from eating ome at an afternoon party without giving the impression that she acquired it in slaving for her husband.

The woman who wants to wear a three-story hat in the theater wants to go bareheaded in a snow storm.

The second base-ball team of Chillicothe normal played the high school team and were defeated by a score of 11 to 0.

Sol Schweizer, one of Utica's oldest and most respected citizens, 71 years old, passed away Wednesday. Deceased was a native of Switzerland.

Mrs. Mary B. Stomburger of Chillicothe was arrested Saturday for shop-lifting. She carried a large umbrella and had placed the stolen articles, such as laces, embroidery and buttons, in that. The goods amounted to about $5 and had been taken from the White Front and New York stores in Chillicothe.

Sam Simmons and Harry Gardner, the two men who were charged with assaulting a and robbing a young farmer by the name of Shaffer while en route from Chillicothe to Avalon some weeks ago, pleaded guilty to the charge before Judge Trimble Saturday morning at their preliminary hearing. Their bonds were fixed at $750.

While celebrating the receipt of $150 that had been sent him by his mother, John (Tamale) Gresham of Glasgow gave his wife a beating for which he was arrested and fined $30 on a plea of guilty before the mayor. His wife interceded in Gresham's behalf and his fine was remitted. During his debauch he squandered $100 of the $150 his mother sent him.

Tuesday witnessed the trial of a lawsuit in DeWitt over some jewelry. Deacon Jones of that town gave an order for jewelry and thought he would look it over and select what he wanted, sending the remainder back. When it arrived he had to take it all as he had signed an order for it. Jones refused to take the jewelry from the express office and now the company is trying to collect the bill, hence the lawsuit.

The mystery of Dave Francis, night watchman at the Horizontal Swing Co.'s in Carrollton, who disappeared a few days ago, has not yet been cleared up. Francis' dog returned home Thursday night almost starved to death. He went on duty as usual Wednesday night and Thursday morning his coat, lantern and lunch-basket were found, but the old man was missing. He had no money with him, and his family know of no reason for his sudden and mysterious disappearance.

John Olson, the Macon coal miner who instituted habeas corpus proceedings against his wife, who abandoned him and their four daughters, for kidnapping, Daphne, his 14-year-old daughter, was awarded the custody of the girl on a compromise, he agreeing to withdraw the charge that his wife was a woman of bad character. Mrs. Olson has since brought suit for a divorce from her husband, alleging brutal treatment and no support while she lived with him.

The Moberly Signals were beaten by the Mexico team playing baseball Sunday. The score was 6 to 5.

A little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Derwood Howell of Macon while visiting at New Cambria with her mother and the other children was taken suddenly ill and died Wednesday night. This makes the third child Mr. and Mrs. Howell have lost in the past 18 months.

A boy about 15 years old named Emil Pittillo was begging in Moberly Saturday. He went to the home of Dr. C. W. Mangus, and Mrs. Mangus took him in her home and cared for the child's wants and listened to his story. He claims to have walked all the way from Knoxville, Tenn. A letter has been written the child's parents.

Dave Skene of Brookfield thinks he has the banner chickens. They are of the Plymouth Rock variety and are a product of Carroll county. In six months seven hens laid 602 eggs and hatched 72 chickens. One of the hens has laid 150 eggs and is still laying. He thinks this is doing pretty well when his chickens are penned up.

THE NATIONAL NURSERIES, Lawrence, Kansas.

Fielding, a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wilhite of Dalton, has decided to make a "tooth carpen-ter" of himself and has gone to St. Louis to take his first year's course at the St. Louis Dental college. Success to him.

Sherman Stewart of near Sumner lost his barn and a lot of farming machinery it contained a week ago Friday night from being struck by lightning. The horses that were in the building were gotten out after much effort. No insurance.

We regret to note in the Democrat that Attorney C. C. Hammond of Salisbury is suffering from gout and infection, so that he has to use crutches when walking. Had Mr. Hammond been an editor instead of a lawyer he would have never had the gout.

The corn show held by John A. Triplett, a hardware man of Triplett, Tuesday of last week was quite a success, 18 farmers taking part in the contest. The corn on exhibition was all very fine. The first prize of $5 was won by N. L. Hill, while the second premium of $1 was captured by John Wohlgenuth.

Ray Morehead was bitten on his leg Monday by Henry Leslie's dog. The wound was cauterized by Dr. Wilfred Baker and we trust it will soon heal. Several children have been bitten by this dog, and we hope the animal will not be allowed to run at large again, or his carnivorous habits should be brought to an untimely end by an injection of buckshot.—Salisbury Democrat.

Salisbury Has Ghosts.

Salisbury has a ghost. It walks in the dead hour of midnight in the south part of town, clad in spectral white. Its head, if head it has, is enveloped in a burnouse of gauze. It was seen Thursday night flitting along in the shadow of the trees by people returning from the Asbury chapel supper.—Salisbury Press-Spectator.

Go on away, child. That's nothing in the world but Heber Hayes walking in his sleep.—Moberly Democrat.

The old settlers' 17th annual re-union of Randolph county was celebrated in Huntsville Thursday. Despite the inclement weather a large number of people attended.

The stockmen of Cairo and vicinity are excited over a strange disease that is taking off great herds of cattle. They are said to have Texas fever.

Wm. C. Belsher, a merchant of Macon, who had been complaining some at the store during the day Thursday, went home and called a physician, when he (Belsher) dropped suddenly into a chair as his spirit took its flight. He was 71 years old and was born in Huntsville, Randolph county, but had lived in Macon since 1859. He leaves four children by his first wife and a second wife and one child.

While on his way home Saturday night Wm. Smith was held up and robbed of his pocket-knife and 45 cents, says the Sumner Star. When the "strong arm" men let him go he made such fast time towards home that he ran out from under his hat and did not recover it until the next morning. It developed the next morning that the parties who held him up were friends of his who intended to return his property to him as soon as they had a chance to laugh at him, but Will was too badly frightened to stay for the laughing part.

Frank Kelly, John McMullen and J. E. Stephenson were taken to the penitentiary Wednesday by Sheriff Graves and two deputies of Macon. Frank Kelly was sent up for two years for stealing a lady's suit case containing her wedding frock, John McMullen got five years for burglary, and J. E. Stephenson was sentenced for three years for burglary. Two other prisoners were Bob Alexander, col., who was given a life sentence for killing his dusky mistress, Aggie Vivian of Keota, and Bill Collins, alias "Weeping Willie," who will do time for three years for burglary.

Proctor Noble and Wm. White, who were charged with robbing Erby Y. Hunt of $266, near Ardmore, the 19th of last April, had their trial by a jury in the Macon circuit court last week, and the jury returned a verdict to the effect that defendants were guilty, but recommended that they be paroled. The judge refused to accept such a verdict and sent the jury back to their room, but they were unable to agree, eight being for acquittal and four for conviction. Noble and White acknowledged their robbery of Hunt, but said it was done as a "joke." The defendants were released on a bond of $500, each.
